LinkedCPA™ implements Qvinci®, the intelligent QuickBooks dashboard, expanding their services and offering a cutting edge product to their clients.

Mt. Pleasant, SC and San Marcos, TX. – LinkedCPA, a newly launched comprehensive portal for CPA's, has adopted Qvinci® as part of the services offered on the website. LinkedCPA offers the tools that accountants have been looking for that take advantage of web and push technologies.

Charles Nagel, CEO of Qvinci Software, said of the partnership, "Qvinci Software is excited to partner with Linked CPA to provide world class products and services to their clients. Linked CPA's expertise greatly enhances Qvinci's value to clients improving their management capabilities and execution."

"The accounting community so rarely receives attention when it comes to software development. Everyone believes the accountant only needs accounting software, but what they truly want is the ability to take numbers and turn them into presentable material a client understands. Qvinci is the software tool that provides a clear measure of numbers that a client can understand. The accountant comes out the hero, and can focus more time on other areas of business." said Scott West, CIO, LinkedCPA.

By implementing Qvinci's® terminal server version (hosted online), LinkedCPA now offers the following unique services to their client-base:

- Qvinci® Pro is hosted by LinkedCPA for their clients' convenience.
- Financial and operational data is displayed graphically in a very easy-to-use dashboard.
- QuickBooks® and Excel® data is available in real-time with the click of a mouse.
- Powerful early warning indicators, forward-looking tools, proformas, and ratios are provided.
